

A HEBREW PEDDLER ASSAULTED

Moses Annenberg, of 207 Union avenue, a Hebrew peddler, appeared before Justice Naeher this morning and charged Thomas Reagan, the keeper of a liquor store at the corner of Bedford avenue and North Fourth street, with assaulting him with his fists and with a cane on August 9. The justice held Reagan for examination on August 21. Moses alleges that he was fired out of Reagan's saloon, whither he went to solicit trade.
